

FINE STRUCTURES BEING COMPLETED FOR COUNTY FAIR

Demand of Space Forced Erection of More Buildings

Work on the buildings at the fair grounds is progressing in a most satisfactory manner, under direction of W. J. Nunn, and the structures are being finished in a much better style than is customary for the usual county fair.

The main agricultural exhibit building, 36x100 feet in size, is now completed, and the poultry exhibit shed, 50x26 feet, with a capacity of three hundred fowls, will probably be completed tomorrow. Both these buildings are strongly put together and will serve the county, if properly cared for, many years.

The amount of space demanded by various sections of the county has been so great that it is necessary to add a third building to be used by communities which are determined to be in on the showing. This building will be 100x30 feet, and will be substantially the same as the main exhibit building. General Manager Armstrong had determined to allow but ten feet of frontage for each community display, but upon interviewing residents of several localities he found that not less than 20 feet of frontage would satisfy, and, he adds, no doubt some communities will demand still more. As a result the space in the buildings is now practically engaged at this early date.

Several additional buildings and sheds are yet to be constructed by the busy gang of men now at work. All will be completed with the time limit, an dit is expected that there will be made some needed improvements on the street leading to the grounds. A space has been reserved for the Jones shows which will run under the supervision of the association during the week of the fair, and which will prove drawing cards for the first annual fair of Putnam county.

"We feel certain that this initial fair will prove such a success that we shall have to add considerable space to the grounds before the second annual exposition is held," says the general manager.

Vote Vindicates Principles of the Former President

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Nov. 11—Woodrow Wilson, in a letter to Senator Carraway, Democrat, of Arkansas, concerning the recent elections says: "We must now clear our minds and purify our hearts to offer to the country in 1924 exactly the service it most needs and the candidate who can best render that service."

The letter which was made public tonight was in reply from the Arkansas senator who said: "All your friends rejoice as much as you in the result of the recent election which is a vindication of the principles for which you fought."

In reply, Mr. Wilson said: "It makes me very proud that you and other generous friends should attribute the result of Tuesday's election to the people's thought of me and I am truly grateful for your own generous expression of confidence and approval."

Long-Due Wages Owed Teachers Paid In Full

Teachers in the public schools of Palatka are now in receipt of the salaries which were earned during the term of last year, but which could not be paid at the expiration of the school year. Some of the pledges were not collected at the time, and the matter has dragged.

A determined effort this week was made by the committee to collect funds to settle the claims. There remained in the Christmas Tree fund of last year $312, and to this was added the sums collected by the committee—making an aggregate of $1600, the amount due.

ROWES MUST HANG NEW TRIAL PLEA DENIED BY COURT

Found Guilty of Killing Two Nassau County Farmers

(By Associated Press)
Jacksonville, Nov. 11—Denying their plea for a new trial, circuit Judge Gibbs here today sentenced William and Allen Rowe, brothers, of Nassau county, to hang for the murder bear last August of William and Soreven Wingate, father and son. The date for the execution will be set next week.

The Wingates, farmers, were held up by two men while riding near here in an automobile shot and then slashed with butcher knives. The seven year old son of Soreven Wingate was in the car with his father and grand father and after killing them the assassins drew to one side and discussed what disposition to make of the boy. For a time, the lad testified at the trial, they were in favor of slaying him also, but they finally decided not to harm him and disappeared in the woods. The boy later identified the alleged slayers after they and several of their relatives had been arrested and was the chief witness at the trial.

One of the Kingates a year ago killed a member of the Rowe family, was acquitted on the ground of self defense and since that time ill feeling had existed between the two families.

No Very Deep Study

I notice in some of the east coast cities there are to be schools opened for the teaching of dressmaking. Literally speaking I should think that it would require but a brief time to learn the art—not near as "long" as formerly. Yassum.
